JACKSON HELD FOR FIRST DEGREE SLAYING

Suspect Taken From Hospital For Hearing

MARTINEZ, Nov. 30.—Taken from his bed in the county hospital where he has been undergoing treatment for wounds, admittedly self-inflicted with suicidal intent, Robert Jackson, alias Robert Butterfield, accused murderer of Mrs. Lucille Howson of Richmond, was given a preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace Frank Glass here this afternoon. He was held in answer to the superior court on a charge of first degree murder.

Deputy District Attorney Hyram E. Jacobs of Richmond handled the presentation of evidence. Jackson was in without attorney did not take the stand.

Evidence was presented by Richmond witnesses for the prosecution which is attempting to prove that Jackson murdered Mrs. Howson, his former sister and mother of four children, near the Shrimp Camp on the Richmond waterfront on the afternoon of Nov. 10. Jackson's admission to police following his arrest were told on the stand by Chief of Police Dan O'Connell.

Further admission made by Jackson when taken to the scene of the alleged murder were told by Deputy Sheriff Ralph Harrison.

Dr. U. S. Abbott testified to an autopsy performed which he declared revealed that the death of Mrs. Howson was due to a slashed throat, probably severed by a razor blade.

How It Started

KING GEORGE of England, shown baring his head during recent Armistice day celebration in London. This exposure gave the British ruler the severe illness that caused so much worry throughout the empire.

CONDITION OF KING GEORGE WATCHED BY 3 PHYSICIANS

LONDON, Nov. 30.—(U.P.)—King George's condition was unchanged tonight and his physicians indicated that he would make only slow progress toward recovery, although some improvement had been shown within the last 24 hours.

A third doctor, Sir Humphrey Rolleston, was summoned to Buckingham Palace this morning for a conference with Sir Stanley Hewitt and Lord Dawson of Penn. After an exhaustive review of the king's illness, they issued the following bulletin:

Progress Slow
"Inflammation of the lungs and pleura show some improvement and the temperature is on a slightly lower level. It must be noted that the time of possible exacerbation infection is not yet passed and in any case progress must be slow."

Signed, Stanley Hewitt, Lord Dawson of Penn.
The bulletin issued tonight said: "The condition of the king shows no change this evening."

Signed, Stanley Hewitt, Dawson of Penn.
It was said upon high authority at Buckingham Palace that the king's condition was improved slightly but today's bulletins made it clear that the possibility of a setback must not yet be ignored. The United Press was informed.

Wales Waits Ship
Meanwhile the Prince of Wales decided definitely to wait at Dares Salaam, East African coast, for the naval cruiser Enterprise, which will arrive probably Sunday to carry him on the next stage of his homeward trip. The prince went to Zanzibar aboard the government yacht Azania today, but will return to the seaport Saturday.

The admiralty announced that the prince virtually had decided to leave the Enterprise at Suez and proceed to Alexandria by train, eliminating the slow passage through the canal. He then would board a warship, probably H. M. S. Frobenius, and proceed to Brindisi, Italy, or Marseilles for the overland trip to London.

The Duke of Gloucester had not reached the seacoast from his hunting trip in Rhodesia and it was not known when he would return.

Great Anxiety
The summoning of a third physician today, and the subsequent long delay in issuing a bulletin at Buckingham Palace, caused great anxiety in the usual crowd (Continued on Page 5)

OFFICIALS IN 'APE BOY' BATTLE

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 30.—(U.P.)—Los Angeles county authorities had Gordon Northcott confined in William Edward Hickman's former cell tonight but whether they will get a chance to prosecute the asserted slayer have seemed uncertain after an apparent break between Riverside and Los Angeles county officials.

The reported rift was understood to have had its start when District Attorney Earl Redwine, of Riverside county, announced that Northcott had admitted killing the "headless Mexican," but had said that the crime took place on a Riverside farm and not in Los Angeles county, where the body was found.

However, local authorities went ahead with plans to try the "ape boy" alleged degenerate and murderer soon after his arrival from Vancouver, B. C. today. He was arraigned on an indictment charging him with the unidentified slaying and must plead Dec. 5.

Before extraditing Northcott from Canada, the district attorneys of the two counties reached an agreement that Northcott would be prosecuted in Los Angeles county for the Mexican boy's murder, and if acquitted taken to Riverside county for trial on charges of slaying three other youths on his farm.

Such a confession would make it necessary to try Northcott in Riverside for all four murders of which he is accused—the Mexican, Walter Collins, and Lewis and Nelson Winslow.

Denies Confession
Los Angeles county officials did not confirm Redwine's statement that Northcott had confessed (Continued on Page 2)

Five Year Old Row Renewed In S. F. Attack

The moulder's "war" believed to have been dropped, flamed anew in San Francisco yesterday when an Albany man was removed to the Harbor Emergency hospital suffering from severe scalp wounds. He reported that he was set upon by two men at the intersection of Fremont and Mission streets while on his way to work at a nearby foundry. He was Philip Adams, 928 San Pablo avenue, Albany.

According to police reports, this is the third time that Adams has been beaten by striking moulders since the start of the strike five years ago.

The "war" has resulted in a number of shootings and beatings in the bay section. Several shots were fired at a non-union moulder in Richmond some time ago.

According to police reports the Adams case was the sixth assault on non-union moulders since last August when a campaign of violence seemed to have been resumed after a truce of about a year.

On Jan. 26, 1928, Adams was severely beaten in the Hunter's Point district. On May 11, 1928, he received a charge of buckshot in his legs and body while standing on Seventh street. He was dangerously wounded.

It was the same method which has been adopted by the "wrecking crew" in nine similar cases. One of these victims died from his wounds. This was Peter Navarette, 809 Guerrero street, who died April 2, 1928.

In yesterday's assault, Adams reported that he noticed two men walking ahead of him. As he started to pass, he said the two separated and he walked behind them.

One of the men struck him on the head with a piece of iron or a gas pipe, and he fell to the sidewalk. As he lay there, the other man kicked him into unconsciousness and then fled.

Stolen Steam Shovel Found In Shrubbery

What Price Glory, may have been lament of the thief who undertook to purloin a steam shovel and truck in Richmond recently. The stolen articles were found yesterday hidden in some brush at the E. O. Dunkley home, 434 Third street, Richmond.

Dunkley made the find while watering his lawn and is certain that the articles were not there when he reported their theft last Saturday.

Theft of the two articles received nationwide publicity when in the confusion of the reported theft the word "toy" was left from in front of the steam shovel and truck.

Just how anyone could park a truck and steam shovel on his front porch after "his child had finished playing with them," caused no little concern, but a check-up revealed that the report was correct.

With the return of the stolen articles yesterday, police have again wiped the slate clean and have abandoned plans for a sleuthing trip of tracking a steam shovel and truck—toys.

Wire Theory Probed In 'Furnace Death'

LAKE BLUFF, Ill., Nov. 30.—(U.P.)—Investigation into the death of Elvira Knaak, "furnace victim," took a new turn and was renewed with vigor today, when a theory that she may have been burned by high voltage electric wires was advanced to investigators by medical authorities.

Doctors discussing the girl's strange death in the village hall furnace said the burps on her head, arms and feet were similar to those electricity would have caused and that the girl may have been carried later into the basement where she was found.

An electric transformer having a voltage of 33,000 is located a short distance from the village hall. A plank found near the furnace is similar to ones used by workmen at the transformer station, investigators pointed out.

Gil Inaugurated As Mexico President

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 30.—(U.P.)—Emilio Portes Gil was inaugurated provisional president of the republic of Mexico today at a simple ceremony attended by military and government officials, members of congress and diplomatic representatives.

President Calles sat at the side of his successor on a platform in the national stadium, where congress met for the occasion. About 25,000 persons witnessed the ceremony.

A 21-gun salute was given to Calles as he entered the stadium and took his place on the platform.

The band played national anthems and congress was opened with roll call. The act officially recognizing the election of Portes Gil was read and then the oath of office was administered to the new executive.

9 U.S. CUSTOM OFFICIALS HELD IN BORDER RUM PLOT

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 30.—(U.P.)—Nine United States customs border patrol inspectors were arrested today by special agents following eight months investigation of what federal officers termed a huge rum smuggling plot.

Fifty inspectors are involved in the alleged plot, officials said. Those arrested today were charged with conspiracy to assist in the smuggling of liquor into the United States and accepting bribes.

U. S. District Inspector John R. Watkins who presented the evidence involving the inspectors, to the federal grand jury, said he intended to "send to Leavenworth penitentiary every crooked inspector along this border."

Watkins estimated that about 50 inspectors in the Detroit area were under suspicion and faced suspension or removal.

In connection with Watkins' drive, seven coast guardsmen were ordered Thursday to report to their Buffalo headquarters to face charges of keeping part of liquor cargoes they had seized.

The customs inspectors in the Detroit area have no connection with the federal prohibition unit. Their duty is to watch for liquor on the American side of the border. Carey D. Ferguson, collector of customs, is in charge of the patrol unit.

Assistant Collector Walter S. Petty and Sumner C. Sleeper, chief of the customs border patrol, began a reorganization of the unit about a year ago. They said evidence of "wholesale corruption" had been found. Ten special agents were employed to watch the inspectors.

"We discharged about 175 agents during that time," Sleeper said, "because it often was almost impossible to get direct evidence, the corruption continued nevertheless."

Fifteen hundred dollars in marked money which one of the special agents collected in bribes in a month, has been turned over as evidence.

MOTORIST HURT IN TRUCK CRASH

Frank Robelo 1518 Filbert street Oakland, suffered cuts on the head and body early yesterday afternoon when the car which he was driving crashed into a truck being driven by C. J. White, Box 303, Menlo Park, according to police reports, the accident occurred at Twenty-third street and Market street.

Robelo was thrown out of his car by the force of the crash. He was removed to the Abbott Emergency hospital for treatment. He was later sent to his home.

HELP REACHES DOOMED CRAFT

SEATTLE, Nov. 30.—(U.P.)—The Japanese steamer Yogen Maru, standing by the freighter Pete Maqualla, in distress in mid-Pacific and expects to rescue the crew of eight officers and 36 men, a message to coast guard headquarters here late today said.

The Yogen Maru reported that she was the only vessel in the vicinity of the Pete Maqualla, a Canadian ship.

The Pete Maqualla was in such condition that towing it would be impracticable, but the rescue of the crew appeared possible, the message said.

Indicted Rum Leader Slain

CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—(U.P.)—Joseph Martino, reputed head of a liquor ring was shot and killed today as he stood in front of his drink parlor in Chicago Heights. Several slugs fired from a sawed off shotgun behind a curtain of an automobile were found in the body.

Martino was indicted last Tuesday by a Federal grand jury on a liquor violation charge.

Austria Treaty On Way To U. S.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—(U.P.)—Austria's signature to the anti-war treaty is now enroute to Washington for deposit in the state department, it was announced today.

Two Held Following Auto Accident Here

Two San Pablans are in the Richmond city jail awaiting appearance before Police Judge C. A. Odell this morning. Walter Powney, of 293 Riverside drive, is charged with driving while drunk and William A. Brew, of the same address, faces a drunk charge.

The two were arrested on the complaint of Capt. G. H. Kayser, 101 Gaynor avenue, after the car which Powney was driving is said to have crashed into Kayser's car, parked in front of his home. Damage of $150 to Kayser's car was reported. The two were arrested by Police Inspector George Bengley. Kayser later swore to the warrant.

Hoover Group Faces Senate Test Soon

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—(U.P.)—The Hoover forces in the Senate will soon have their first real test of strength over the question of selecting a republican floor leader to replace Senator Charles Curtis of Kansas who is about to mount the vice-presidential chair.

The two leading figures in the contest for the senate leadership are Senator Watson of Indiana, who ran against Hoover for the republican presidential nomination, but later supported the nominee concerned.

There is no suggestion that Hoover himself will inject himself into the fight although some of his friends may seek some expression from him in their effort to block the selection of Watson.

The majority leadership is a key position insofar as control of legislation in the senate is concerned.

Runaway Girls, 15, Found With 2 Boys

SANTA MARIA, Nov. 30.—(U.P.)—Two girls who ran away from their homes in Portland, Ore., on Oct. 8, Marian Lazafa, 15, and Barbara Nagel, 15, were found here late today.

Descriptions of the girls had been circulated throughout the nation and the mother of Marian Lazafa had come here from the north to make identification positive.

The girls were with George Monger, 20, of Portland, and Carl Castile, 20, of Maricopa, California. Marian's mother said she would not file charges against the boys.

'Showdown' Delayed In New York Murder

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—(U.P.)—A promised showdown between the state of New York and the Broadway half-world in the matter of Arnold Rothstein's murder was deferred today for five days.

George McManus, said by authorities to have been in room 349, Park Central hotel, when the millionaire gambler was shot Nov. 6, appeared in court to answer to a short emergency affidavit charging him with first degree murder.

The district attorney had promised that the grand jury would have returned indictments against McManus and two other persons believed to have been "in" on Rothstein's shooting.

It developed that progress had been slower than was expected. It has been since the case opened—and the district attorney asked an adjournment until next Wednesday. McManus, through his lawyer, consented and Judge Manetto ordered the postponement.

CONDITION OF KING GEORGE UNCHANGED

which clustered at the palace gates. Many thickly-clad unemployed men and women were in the throng and a continuous stream of automobiles moved past the bulletin board. Often chauffeurs stopped to scan the bulletin and returned to report to the occupants of the automobile that it was Thursday night's report.

When the bulletin finally was posted the crowd rushed forward to read it. It was past one by one so that each could read the report rather than be content with hearing it read along by those in the front row as previously had been done. Opinion was divided on the report, but generally it was considered reassuring.

Complete Study
The king had passed one of the "quietest" nights since his illness, police officials said, but the physicians wanted time to review the entire case. They studied all data and records in the case, including the temperature chart, radiographs and results of bacteriological investigation conducted last week by Dr. Howard Whitney.

Belletson, who is physician-in-ordinary to the king, was summoned merely to get a third opinion, not because the king's condition was worse, it was said.

The brief bulletin issued tonight was not unexpected in view of the longer survey of the king's condition this morning. It was evident that the previous improvement had been maintained throughout the day, observers pointed out.

The fact that Queen Mary left the palace twice during the day for visits of more than an hour each time was interpreted as favorable. The crowd at the gates cheered her as she left.

happen and attempted to commit suicide by slashing his left arm, he declared. He was unsuccessful in his attempt owing to the fact that he slashed his arm too high above the wrist to sever the artery.

Three days later he stumbled into the arms of Richmond police who were searching for him and who, in the meantime, had located the house in which he made the suicide attempt.

Following his preliminary hearing this afternoon, Jackson was taken back to the county hospital where he is still undergoing treatment for the injured arm. He is expected to be recovered sufficiently within a few days to be removed to the county jail.

Jackson was a foster brother of Mrs. Howson and made his home with her parents at Nord for a number of years. In 1923, he shot and killed Theodore Lockhart at Chico for alleged attentions to Mrs. Howson's mother. He was convicted of manslaughter and served two years in San Quentin prison for the crime.

Water Carriers War On Chinese Water Works

PEKING, Nov. 30.—(U.P.)—Ten thousand water-carriers have declared war on the Peking water works which they declare is depriving them of their means of livelihood. Several riots have occurred recently in which the police have declined to intervene through sympathy with the carriers.

The water-carriers have been established in Peking for centuries with their own guild. They wheel water through the streets on their one-wheeled barrow which emits a harsh creaking sound. Householders wanting water hear the noise and come to their doors as the carrier passes to make their bargain.

Since the overthrow of the Manchus in 1911, many of the former ruling class, who never did any manual labor, have entered the ranks of the water-carriers. But now adversity is pursuing them further, in the shape of the water works, which pipes water into a thousand new Peking homes every year.

The recent riots have been caused by carriers attacking gangs installing pipes for the water works. In spite of all protests, however, more and more Peking people are having water piped into their homes.

TAILORS FIGHT SCISSOR DUEL

BUDAPEST, Nov. 30.—(U.P.)—Scissors were selected as the proper weapons when Antal Szekely and Janos Leter, two Budapest tailors, decided to settle an affair of the heart in true knightly fashion.

Antal and Janos quarreled over a girl. In Hungary it is customary to settle such quarrels with a duel. Usually light sabres are used, due care being taken that neither party can be severely cut. These two rivals had heard of duels but were not aware of the precautionary measures which "gentlemen duelers" take when defending their honor. They decided to settle their differences in real earnest.

Leter is now minus part of his nose and Szekely part of an ear. Both have a number of lacerations on the face, and both will have to explain their fight to a police magistrate as soon as they are released from the hospital. Though still practicing dueling is forbidden by law.

OFFICIALS ROW OVER APE BOY PROSECUTION

Thursday, and tomorrow here by train today Northcott told reporters that he had not done so.

Capt. Bill Bright, of the Los Angeles county sheriff's auxiliary squad said, "It's in our job now and we'll hold him until we see what happens."

He admitted that he had had little opportunity to question the alleged murderer and that except for a 10 minute talk had not seen the boy alone on the trip from Vancouver, B. C. Throughout the greater part of the journey Northcott was handcuffed to two Riverside deputy sheriffs.

Northcott was taken from the train at Glendale today, and transferred to the county jail here by automobile.

Refuses to Talk
In the booking office he displayed the same determination to avoid questioning that he showed on the train. When the usual jail entrance questions were asked him he announced that he would say nothing because his lawyers had told him not to say anything. An effeminate youth with long, curling eye lashes, he seemed peevish at times.

"No, I won't answer," he lisped. "I'm supposed to have made a confession and everything. They have no grounds."

"Why, you'd positively think this was a theatrical performance. I don't want any publicity and I don't want any pictures because they have no place in criminal trials," he said.

Solon Asks Dialect For Philippines

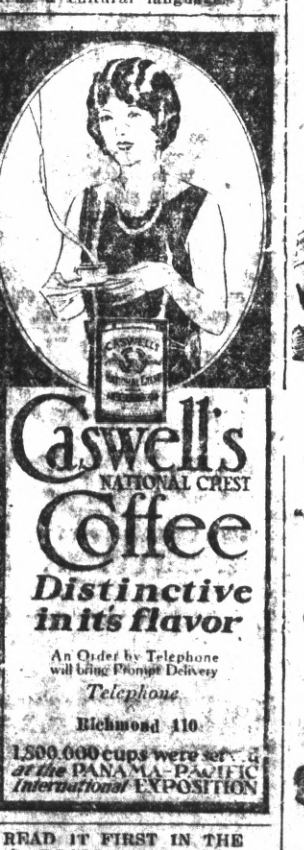

MANILA, Nov. 30.—(U.P.)—Fresh efforts to make the Tagalog dialect the official language of the Philippines are being made in the Philippine Legislature.

A bill proposed by Representative Arsenio Bonifacio would make compulsory the teaching of a course in Tagalog in all public schools in the islands.

Spanish and English are already waging a hot contest for supremacy, while linguistic experts estimate the total number of Philippine dialects at 87. Bonifacio's bill would, in the opinion of his opponents, only make "confusion worse confounded."

On behalf of Tagalog it is argued that this is one of the main root languages of the islands. It is declared, and likewise contended, that a knowledge of Tagalog will already carry one far on a trip around the archipelago—most observers supplementing this with the statement that either Spanish or English will serve much better.

Behind the periodic effort to establish Tagalog as a national language is the idea of drawing the islands together as a unified people. Opposing this are the issues of practicability—Tagalog being of no use outside the islands proper, and at present of doubtful value in them—and efforts by Americans on the one hand to establish English as the prevailing tongue, and by Spanish and old-style Filipinos to revive the general use of Spanish as a cultural language.

SPORTS

CARDS, CADETS TO PLAY ON WET FIELD

On a cold, wet field, the United States Military Academy football team will face Pop Warner's cohorts from Stanford today in one of the biggest games of the year. The contest will be held at the Yankee stadium, New York city.

Yesterday cold rains drizzled swamping the field and lowering Stanford's hopes for victory. Pop has always based his move for victory on fast backfield work. The wet field today may hold them down.

Today will be the biggest day for Pop—perhaps. He has seen his team play straight football without that dash that has always set off the Cardinals from every team on the coast. Thursday he saw Oregon Aggies show brilliant football against New York U and he is hoping that his men will show just as brilliant of a game and kick through to a smashing victory that will settle for the year the superiority of the West over the East.

The sports experts in the east are worried after the showing Oregon made.

"If Oregon was only a sixth class Coast football squad," they mutter, "what are we to expect at the hands of the Cardinals?"

SAINT MARY'S IN VICTORY OVER BRONCOS

In the annual little 'b' game at Kezar stadium, San Francisco on Thursday St. Mary's grid squad defeated the Santa Clara Broncos by a score of 20 to 7. The Saints have defeated the Broncos six out of seven times since Ed "Skip" Modica has been coaching the team.

A series of line bucks and forward passes resulted in the first touchdown for the Saints in the first quarter. Merrick went over the line. The kick for the extra point failed. The second touchdown came in the third quarter for the Saints when Driscoll caught a pass from Stennett and raced 15 yards. Murphy kicked the extra point. Stennett scored the third touchdown for the Saints on a 45 yard run through the Broncos. Murphy again kicked the goal.

In the fourth quarter the Broncos opened a passing attack, raining slices of territory on each pass. Finally Koller speared a pass over the goal line and got the only touchdown for the Broncos.

The Saints had a clear game throughout most of the struggle. They were able to gain territory line after time. The contest was marked by numerous penalties for both sides. The Saints lost about 55 yards through eight penalties.

CONDITIONS ON FARMS HELD IMPROVED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Indications are that the gross income of American agriculture for the crop year 1928-29 will be larger than that of the preceding crop year, says Secretary of Agriculture William M. Jardine in his annual report to the president. In the crop year 1927-28 the gross income of American agriculture from all products amounted to $12,253,000,000, compared with $12,127,000,000 in the crop year 1926-27 and $12,570,000,000 in the crop year 1925-26, in which year the total was the highest since 1919-20. As the present marketing season still has some months to run, it is not yet possible to estimate its probable financial results in detail.

The expectation of an increased gross income, the report indicates, is based chiefly on the fact that the livestock industries have prospered conspicuously. Substantially larger returns than those of the preceding year will be earned by dairymen, beef producers and poultrymen. Hog raisers likewise have grounds for optimism. In the early part of 1928 hog prices were unsatisfactory, but the later months brought great improvement. Returns from cash grains, hay, tobacco and potatoes will be smaller than in the preceding year.

Distress Small
In general, says Secretary Jardine, the situation is less uneven than in any year since 1926. There are fewer distress areas. Many branches of the agricultural industry record new gains in the efficiency of production, and likewise in the adjustment of supply to demand. In all probability the improvement in gross income will be reflected in a proportionate increase in net income, because the evidence available indicates that production costs in 1928 were not larger than in 1927 and may have been smaller.

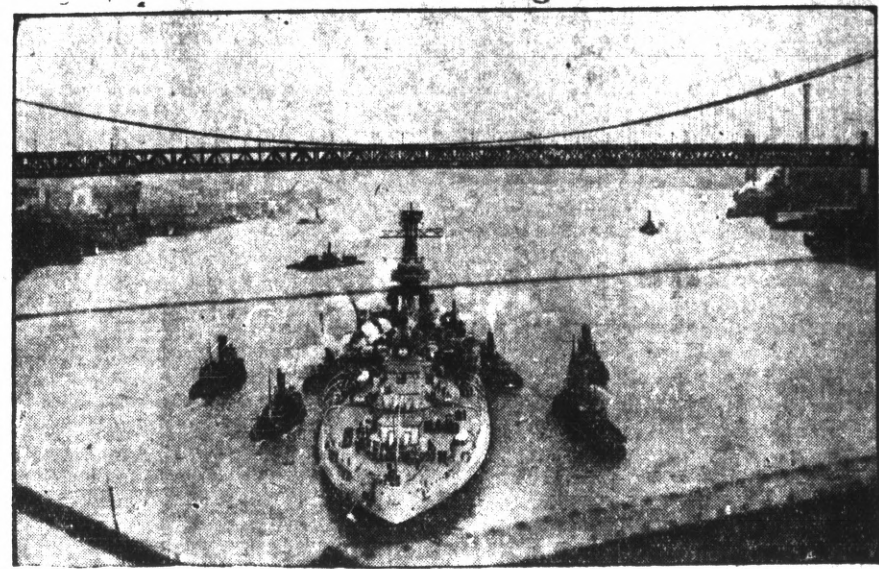

The season was one of heavy production despite hampering weather conditions in some areas. Yields per acre were about three percent above the average for the last 10 years and about 1.7 percent above those of last year. Good yields were harvested except in the eastern and central parts of the cotton belt, in parts of the eastern corn belt, and in an area affected by drought, comprising most of South Dakota, western Nebraska, eastern Colorado, New Mexico and southern Texas. Sharp changes in temperature in the spring destroyed the winter wheat seeded on fully 10,000,000 acres of land and thinned the stand on a large additional acreage. Reseeding was complicated by a cold and wet June. In the late summer and fall the south Atlantic states had torrential rains that set new precipitation records at many stations. These adverse conditions, however, were largely offset by generally favorable harvesting weather in the more important agricultural states and the upward trend recorded in farm production in the last few years continued.

Acreage Largest
Average of crops harvested was the largest on record, exceeding that of 1927 by 8,000,000 acres, or 24 percent, the increase being larger than that of any year since 1918. It should be recalled, of course, that the area harvested last year was diminished by the Mississippi floods. Expansion of acreage is not always desirable, and the expansion this year in the case of certain crops—potatoes—was definitely undesirable. Expansion of acreage, however, is at least a mark of confidence in the future of agriculture. The increase was pretty well distributed throughout the country and was divided among cotton, spring wheat, potatoes and other leading crops. A decline representing a shift to more intensive crops took place in the acreage previously devoted to hay.

"Cotton was planted on about 46,700,000 acres, an increase of 11.4 percent over the acreage planted last year. As a result, the area in cotton was only 4 percent below the record acreage of 1926. Losses from the boll weevil, however, were the heaviest since the first few years that pest spread through the cotton belt. Weather conditions were unfavorable for cotton. In consequence the cotton crop in October was estimated at less than 14,000,000 bales compared with 17,977,000 bales in 1926. Last year's small crop of 12,955,000 bales was held down by acreage reduction, boll weevil damage, and the Mississippi floods. Although cotton prices now are lower than those prevailing in October 1927, the market has shown strength recently. Since the production is greater than last year, the outlook for cotton incomes is encouraging.

Wheat Increase
"Our wheat production exceeded 900,000,000 bushels for the first time since 1919. The increase was mostly in hard winter wheat and in durum wheat. Indications are that the world's supply of wheat will be about five percent greater than that of the 1927-28 season. Canada, our most important competitor in wheat, has a record crop, although a part has been reduced in quality by frosts. Europe, outside of Russia, has a crop somewhat larger and of better quality than that of last year. But the increase in the world's supply will be considerably offset by an increase in demand. In Europe the consumption of wheat will probably be stimulated by its relatively low price and by the fact that the corn crop in southern Europe is short. Moreover, Russia's rye crop is short, and that country will probably import more wheat than it did in 1927-28. Turkey and northern China have short wheat crops. The prospect is for consumption of this season's large wheat production to an extent that should leave only a comparatively small increase in the carryover.

"General improvement in the livestock industry in which all its branches shared, was the most outstanding development in the 1928 agricultural situation. Cattle prices continued the advance that started late in 1926, and by last midsummer reached the highest average level ever recorded in peace time. Hog prices early in the year touched the bottom of a long decline which had started 18 months previously and are now in the upward swing of the new price cycle.

Lamb prices were well maintained notwithstanding increased production. Wool prices were higher. Range conditions generally were fair to good throughout the year; all sections were free from serious droughts. Abundant supplies of corn, hay, and other feedstuffs were harvested.

Livestock Balanced
"In short, the livestock industry is now in the best balanced condition it has held for many years. Production of cattle, hogs, and sheep has been adjusted more nearly in line with consumer demand for meats at prices assuring reasonable profits to the livestock producers. Total production of meats from inspected slaughter for the calendar year 1928 will probably be slightly larger than in either 1927 or 1926. Total gross income from livestock sales will be larger than last year, and will be almost equal to that of 1926, which was the highest in recent years as a result of that year's high level of hog prices. This year the proportion of the gross income distributed to cattlemen will more nearly equal that going to hog producers. Sheepmen also will receive a larger share.

"Prosperity was brought to the livestock industry through readjustments in production, whereby producers reduced their breeding herds and disposed of burdensome surpluses. This readjustment was completed first in the sheep industry about 1922. It was not until 1927 that market supplies of cattle were reduced sufficiently to cause a material rise in the general level of cattle prices. The production cycle of hogs is of much shorter duration than that of cattle and sheep. Hence the swine industry within the last six years has experienced two periods of surplus production and low prices, and one period of small supplies and high prices. It has now entered its second period of reduced production. An upward swing of prices is in progress, which assures hog producers a favorable outlook for the coming year.

Dairy Industry
"Generally favorable conditions prevailed this year for the dairy industry. Prices were good and the returns to producers relatively better than those of some other leading farm enterprises. Supplies of roughage and hay were large and this fact, despite high prices for concentrated feeds, gave dairymen a margin of returns over feed costs as wide as or wider than that of several recent years. Although total milk production was about the same as in 1927 output of cheese, dry milk, and ice cream increased, while that of condensed and evaporated milk and butter decreased. A steady upward trend in the consumption of market milk and cream was recorded, but data are not yet available to show whether this increase sufficed to offset the indicated decrease in the consumption of butter and condensed evaporated milk."

In addition to reviewing the general position of agriculture, the report discusses farm land values, agricultural relief problems, farm taxation, the tariff and agriculture, farm credit facilities, agricultural cooperation, and other important agricultural problems. Considerable space is devoted to recounting research and regulatory work done by the various bureaus of the department. Federal road construction is chronicled, and numerous discoveries made by department scientists in chemistry, plant and animal biology, and entomology are recorded. The report also discusses departmental problems, including the financing of research. Particular attention is devoted by the Secretary to certain economic services maintained by the department, including crop reporting, market news, efforts to obtain recognition of quality at country markets for cotton and wheat, and price analysis.

AUTO LICENSE APPLICATIONS STARTED

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 30.—The Division of Motor Vehicles will begin receiving applications for 1929 automobile license plates by mail tomorrow.

Elaborate preparations have been made at the Sacramento office to handle the flood of mail that is expected to come in. Division officials estimate that at least half million applications will be received within the next two weeks.

No plates will be delivered before Dec. 15. Early applications, however, will have the best chance for fast service and low numbers.

The public distribution of plates over the counters at Sacramento and the various branch offices will begin on Dec. 15.

Division officials anticipate a heavier "mail order" business this year than ever before. They declare this method of securing plates is so much simpler and easier than making special trips to branch offices to stand in line sometimes for long periods, that the motorist public is rapidly becoming converted to the mail application.

While it will probably never be possible to abandon the counter deliveries entirely, division officials are hopeful they can be reduced to the minimum by the universal acceptance of the mail order plan.

The division urges every motorist in California to forward his application at once for the new plates.

All that is necessary is to take the certificate of registration from the car, enclose it in an envelope with the amount of the fee and mail the envelope to the division of Motor Vehicles, Sacramento.

If the applicant has changed his address since last year he should print the new address on the certificate to insure prompt and correct delivery of his plates.

Certified checks, postal money orders and bank drafts are acceptable in payment of the fee. Applicants are urged not to send currency.

The regular $3 fee for ordinary passenger cars is unchanged. The fee schedules for commercial vehicles were changed however by addition of the Wagon bill and motor vehicle owners should acquaint themselves with these new schedules before forwarding the fee.

WORLD POPULATION

Visions of a time when there will be so many people that the earth will not be able to feed or support them are conjured up by Sir George Handley Knibbs, the Australian statistician.

"If the population of the world continues to increase at the present rate of 1 percent a year it will within two centuries exceed the maximum which the earth can support or feed," he declares in his book, "The Shadow of the World Future," recently published.

Sir George declares that the limits of human expansion are much nearer than popular opinion imagines.

The difficulty of food supplies, he says, will soon be of the gravest character. The exhaustion of sources of energy necessary for any notable increase of population or advance in the standards of living, or both combined, is perilously near.

To show "how ominous the world's future is" Sir George points out that, while from 1800 to 1900 the rate of increase of the world's population was roughly 0.864 percent, from 1900 to 1911 statistics for 26 countries gave a rate of increase over all of 1.159 percent.

Taking the present world population as 1,950,000,000, Sir George gives the following figures as showing the result of an increase of 0.864 percent.

Year	Millions	Year	Millions
1928	1950	2169	15,600
2008	3900	2250	31,200
2089	7800	2330	62,400

The figures for the years 2169 2250 and 2330 are, he declares, not possible populations for this earth.

Calculations indicate that the earth might be able to feed a population of from 7,020,000,000 to 9,000,000,000, or even 11,000,000,000 if there was the freest possible migration, appropriate co-ordination of all human effort and complete elimination of the jeopardy of war, Sir George adds:

"Very soon the question must be faced whether it is better that there should be larger numbers and a more modest living, or fewer numbers and lavish living," he said.

In view of the imminence of a food shortage, Sir George thinks that some measure of the control of births in some way or other is inevitable.

MEASURING ELECTRICITY

Electrical measuring instruments should be shielded from currents that might set up a magnetic field, the bureau of Standards of the Department of Commerce states. The statement follows in full text:

It is often necessary in electric power stations to make accurate measurements of current or power when the instrument is located near to cables carrying large alternating currents. The magnetic field produced by these currents may constitute a serious source of error in the measurements unless careful precautions are taken to guard against such disturbing effects.

The Bureau of Standards points out that these errors may be detected and minimized by the following methods: (1) Arrange the cables carrying the large currents in such a way that they produce as little stray magnetic effect as possible; (2) use instruments of the shielded or of the astatic type; (3) repeat readings with the instrument connections reversed; and (4) avoid all loops in the connecting leads.

A paper on this subject has been prepared by the bureau at the request of the Committee on Instruments and measurements of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers. It will be published in the transaction of the society as one of a series on methods of shielding apparatus when making precision measurements.

A clever and yet this method of introducing crimes on black velvet.
Dear Judge,

I have just bought a black velvet coat which for purposes of economy I bought without fur. I have some strips of ermine and had expected to bind the edge with it, but it really does not look smart. Have you any suggestions for trimming a close-fitting collar?
Mrs. M. A. J.
You have only to look about you and to glance at any fashion magazine to be assured of the

AND THE WORST IS YET TO COME

BEAUTY

You wouldn't go to bed without brushing your teeth, would you? Cleansing your face and neck is just as important and should be done just as religiously.

By bedtime your skin is clogged with dust, oil and cosmetics which if you allow them to remain on overnight, will penetrate the pores and cause blackheads, enlarged pores and other equally disagreeable things. Cleansing cream dissolves and loosens all this accumulation of dirt and with your clean towel or cleansing tissue you can easily remove every last trace of the day's grime. When you're sure your face is thoroughly clean then it is plenty of time to think of putting in your skin food, or applying a bleach or whatever is scheduled for that particular night.

But don't go to bed with a dirty face!

Dear Miss Lane

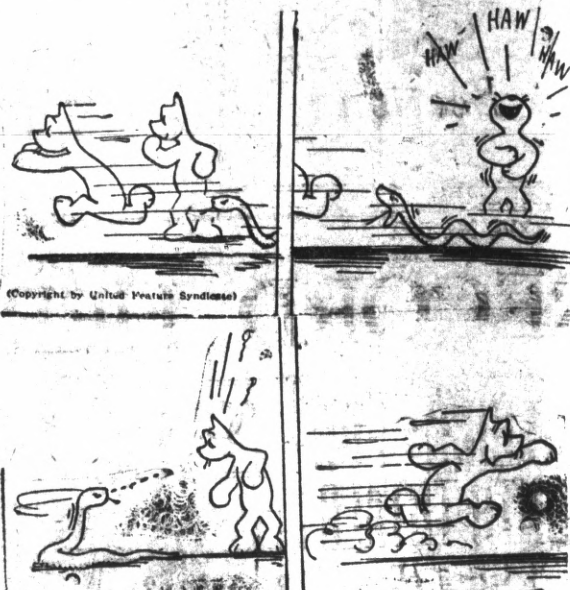

The forefinger and third finger on my right hand are discolored from smoking. What can I do to prevent their staining and erase the stain that is already there?
RUTH

Scrub the offending fingers with a manicure brush and powdered pumice and bleach with lemon juice until the stain disappears. After such drastic treatment, be sure and soften up the hands with a good hand lotion or cream to keep the skin smooth and free from irritation.

Why don't you use a holder?

Many Attend Thanksgiving Services Here

The First Baptist church was crowded on Thanksgiving Day for the union Thanksgiving services, conducted by pastors of six Protestant churches of Richmond.

Rev. A. A. Pratt, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, delivered the sermon, taking for his theme: "Acceptable Thanksgiving." He called attention to several reasons for Thanksgiving. As individuals, God requires it, he said; and as a nation, the people have cause to be thankful. He extolled the thanksgiving of humility and unselfishness and decried the Pharisee type of self-congratulation and the superiority type of giving thanks.

Mrs. W. H. Kleinkauf presided at the organ. During the offertory she played "The Shepherd Boy." Rev. George Forman sang as a solo "The Earth Is the Lord's."

Other Richmond ministers taking part in the services were Rev. Aldis L. Webb, who offered prayer; Captain Omar Knutson, who read the President's Thanksgiving proclamation; Rev. H. I. Oberholtzer who read the scripture lesson; and Rev. S. T. Himes, who had charge of the offering.

In the Catholic churches, large crowds attended the services. Other denominations held separate meetings in observance of the day.
